ARAID call

Aragon Health Sciences Institute (IACS) (http://www.iacs.aragon.es), wishes to contact researchers in leading new lines of research in specific areas:

- Bioinformatics
- Big Data y Computational techniques

The interested researchers should demonstrate a solid research trajectory and a great capacity of leadership, and will opt for the international call of recruitment of the Foundation Agency Aragonesa for the Research and the Development (ARAID) (https://araid.es/es/convocatorias/activas). This call aims to recruit outstanding candidates with excellent research record and leadership capabilities, in order to fill up to a maximum of 8 research positions in different research areas. The contract offered is a full dedication, and undefined term according the local law. Salaries are in line with similar positions at the Public Institutions, and in range with the Researcher's experience and potential. The final salary is negotiated individually.

A previous selection process will be made by IACS. The candidates must contact us before 13rd February 2017 (e-mail investigacion.iacs@aragon.es) and attach their CV.
